A Vape Hookah is a very cool and innovative way to get high. Vaping is the new trend in smoking. The vaping community is growing everyday, as more people switch over to vaping as their preferred method of getting high. Vaping can be done with a wide range of different substances including weed, waxes, dry herbs and even tobacco cigarettes. Vape Hookah is often used interchangeably with e-cigarettes, but it should not be confused with them. They may look similar but they are actually very different devices used for different purposes. E-cigarettes are an alternative to traditional cigarettes that do not contain tobacco or nicotine but rather use liquid nicotine instead of tobacco leaves in order for them to work properly as smoking devices. On the other hand, Vape Hookahs use herbal blends that contain no tobacco or nicotine whatsoever but rather rely on other ingredients such as propylene glycol (PG) or vegetable glycerin (VG) in order for them to work properly as smoking devices

The Vape Hookah comes with two different types of coils: one for flavor clouds and another one for bigger clouds of vapor. Both coils are designed in such a way that they can withstand high temperatures for a longer period without burning out quickly. The wicks are made from 100% organic cotton material so they do not produce any toxic vapor while vaping with them.
